

Greater visibility, thanks to next level control

Universal Motor Controller UMC100.3

Taking motor control to the next level shouldn't be complicated. And with the UMC100.3, it isn't. Part of a complete suite of products from ABB, the UMC100.3 delivers all the reliability and protection you expect while driving an intelligent data hub for predictive applications. Market leading software gives you greater visibility. And simple configuration, outstanding user experience, and unrivaled communication options give you a truly future ready solution. What's more, it provides savings of up to 40% total costs. The UMC100.3. Effortless motor control. abb.com/lowvoltage

