PRODUCT/PROCESS CHANGE NOTICE

HCEP instrument transformer color change

April 22, 2022

Please be advised that ABB Inc. in Pinetops, NC, will implement a change in the color of medium voltage outdoor instrument transformers encapsulated in hydrophobic cycloaliphatic epoxy (HCEP), effective immediately. A tint is being removed from the casting process, and units shipped from this date forward may appear slightly darker than units received to date. Removal of the tint has no impact on the dielectric or mechanical properties of the material and does not affect the performance of these products.

ABB values your business, and we look forward to continuing to serve you.

For questions, please contact your local ABB representative or e-mail the factory at US-pinetops.customersupport@abb.com.
